What people appreciate about me:

That I will always take the time to listen.

That I am non-judgemental and that I'm dedicated to my work.

I am patient and that I will take the time to explain things that are not understood at first.

How to support me in my role:

- Offer advice and your perspective because I am always open to new ideas and am a believer that learning is life long.
- Offer me something sweet when you see that I am having a not so good day

What is Important to me:

- Spending as much time as possible with my family
- That I receive feedback about the work that I do so that I can focus on how to improve.
- My continued professional development
- That my team understand the significance of the work that they do and that I am here to support them to gain a clear understanding
- That I have a cup of tea every evening so that I can plan for my next day
- Working in a team environment
